Menu for Justice – Toward a European Curriculum Studiorum on Judicial Studies is an EU research project aimed to develop guidelines for a European curriculum of studies. This book brings together the research papers of this project dealing with innovation in judicial studies. It shows the need for innovation of legal education, the current trends and difficulties, and finally, the opportunities offered by innovation. The contributors present proposals and suggestions how legal training could support the development of adequate knowledge, professional skills and increase the competences of lawyers.

This book is a companion volume to Legal Education and Judicial Training in Europe.
